About the Organizer	The International Centre for Bamboo and Rattan (ICBR) was approved to be established in 2000 by State Commission Office for Public Sector Reform, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Science and Technology, which was a research institution under the National Forestry and Grassland Administration (NFGA). Its mission is to directly serve the first China-based intergovernmental international organization - the International Bamboo and Rattan Organization (INBAR) - in supporting and cooperating with the work of INBAR to promote sustainable development of the international bamboo and rattan industries. ICBR's main responsibilities and tasks are: to launch scientific research in bamboo and rattan for better resource conservation, development and utilization; to carry out international cooperation and exchanges in related fields for INBAR member countries; to train senior professionals by disciplinary and personnel development; to spread out scientific R&D, technological services and promoting use of the products to speed up the bamboo industry; to unfold both international and domestic technical training; and to provide logistics support services to headquarter of INBAR. Since 2005, sponsored by Ministry of Commerce, ICBR organized 63 international seminars and training programs on bamboo & rattan, flowers and garden, and desertification combat; it has trained more than 2281 senior government officials (including 23 ministers), business executives and senior technical staff from 84 countries. These programs play a very important role in promoting the development of bamboo and rattan sector and desertification combat worldwide, and have been highly valued by participants, ambassadors and NGOs. It is noteworthy that President Xin Jinping sent an official congratulatory letter for the 20th and 25th anniversary of INBAR, and Premier Li Keqiang met with the Ministers who joined the Ministerial Workshop on Bamboo and Rattan. ICBR and the former Minister of State of Ethiopia published an initiative on the establishment of a "Sino-Africa Bamboo Center", while later on, the project is listed in the action plan of the 2018 and 2021 China - Africa Cooperation Forum. Besides, Mr. Ban Ki-moon, the former Secretary General of the United Nations sent a congratulatory message for International Seminar on the Combating Desertification for African Countries.
