

New Zealand Short Term Training Scholarships

Public Sector Leadership

Overview

The Public Sector Leadership Course has been created to teach participants how to lead strategically and with influence in the public sector field in which they work. It will also draw on principles of good public sector leadership to support participants as they progress through their professional careers.

This is an intensive, online, short course designed for participants from Latin American and the Caribbean who are currently in middle and senior management positions.

The design, management and delivery of the course is run by staff of the Public Policy Institute at the University of Auckland. Leading expertise from the University of Auckland, the School of Population Health, and the Business School as well as industry experts who are considered world-class authorities will also be invited to present on various aspects of content to ensure the highest quality content.

When?

Online Public Sector Leadership for participants from Latin America and the Caribbean will commence on 22 April 2024 and will complete on 17 May 2024. This course will be delivered online on a part-time basis.

An Orientation will be held by Skills Consulting Group on the Thursday prior to the course start date to provide applicants with further detail on their scholarship and allowances.

Delivery Management and Presenting Team

Professor Jennifer Curtin, Director of the Public Policy Institute, oversees all aspects of the programme, is part of the introductory and completion sessions, and contributes to modules on good governance, public leadership, and inclusive trade.

Dr Suzanne Woodward and Dr Oluwakemi Igiebor are the Course Coordinators; they manage the pre-course induction process, access to our learning management system, coordinate pastoral care throughout each course, and maintain connections with scholars throughout. Suzanne and Kemi also contribute expert content on topics related to communication, participation, and inclusive leadership, and share the management of each live online session.

The Public Policy Institute appoint scholar success advisors who have knowledge of the regions from which the scholars are drawn. This is done on a course-by-course basis, to provide both intellectual and culturally sensitive care and support. The Scholar Success Adviser runs two drop-in sessions online each week and contributes to break-out room activities during each session.

Each course also has an Academic Lead: The Public Sector Leadership Course is led by Professor Jennifer Curtin. The lead contributes content and select other relevant expert academics and practitioners as contributors.
